

Erasmus+ Croatia

I was really excited before the trip because I was sure that it was going to be an amazing journey. I genuinely love Croatia, and I was looking forward to meeting new people.

They welcomed us with a lovely little show at the school. It was really thoughtful and kind of them. After that they showed the school to us. There was a huge garden where kids could play or just take a walk, a big library under renovation. The school was old, but you could see that it was taken care of. After this we went from Pula to Rovinj for sightseeing. It was really beautiful, and we got a little free time there so we could look around in groups ourselves.

The next day a tour guide showed us around in the center of Pula, at the end of the tour the Croatian students joined us, and we went to the arena together. In afternoon we went boating at the sea. It was really enjoyable and amazing.

The day after that we went to Kamenjak with the Croatian students. We had a tour guide there too. This afternoon was a little bit more chill, we had some free time in Pula, and we went to the beach near our hotel.

On the next day we were in the school, and we joined the students there for I.C.T., Music and pottery classes. The students there were really helpful, and we got to know each other a lot during the day. Then in the evening there was a little party at the school, so we went there too. It was so much fun! The Croatians and the Hungarians were dancing together, and I think that was when we became friends.

We got to the last day that we spent there. We started the day at the school with an English class. Then we made our presentation about our school and town, and they also said some fun facts about theirs. We had to form into mixed groups and there was a little quiz competition. We sadly got seconds, but it was a lot of fun! The afternoon was amazing. We went to the local aquarium, and we watched the sunset after that. It was one of the most beautiful things I have ever seen. After we went back to our hotel, the three girls we became friends with visited us. We went to the beach together and talked a lot. They were so kind to come and say goodbye to us.

I am really happy that I could get some friends, and we still talk today. I am really grateful that I could be the part of this project. There is no better way to improve my English and get the world know. It was an experience that I will never forget.
